VOL. 14, NUMBER 33 MONESSEN, PA., THURSDAY, JULY 22, 1915 SIX CENTS THE WEEK

Youthful Thieves Are Again Under Arrest

Monesen's band of juvenile robbers was rounded up again last night on the charge of entering the Fifth Avenue Grocery store and will likely be given a hearing some time today. Three of the boys, George Hazard, Nick Marsh and Peter Karloskey were arrested last night and they implicated Deanie Fontanelli, Joe Young and George McCluskey who will be placed under arrest today.

Practically every one of the boys whose ages range from 7 to 10 years have faced the burgess on various occassions charged with entering local stores but as the merchants refused to prosecute them they were allowed their freedom. The proprietor of the Fifth Avenue Grocery store has been troubled for some time with the gang and warned them several times yesterday. They refused to leave and last evening he caught them taking sardines from the store and had them arrested.

They will be given a hearing before a Justice of the Peace and some of them will at least be sent to the reform school. For months past they have given the police no end of trouble and only in the past three weeks, three of the gang, Hazard, Marsh and Young, were arrested charged with entering the Monessen Five and Ten cent store. Young is the smallest one of the crowd but is evidently the leader and more daring. He remained in the Five and Ten cent store over night and was discovered the following morning trying to leave the building through a small ventilator.

Officers Installed Last Night

James F. Kane Co. No. 24 Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias held their annual inspection and installation of officers in the lodge rooms of the Olympic theatre building last evening Major Swartz of the McKeesport company had charge of the inspection and he made the trip here overland with about fifteen members of the McKeesport company. Other visitors were present from Pittsburgh and Charleroi.

The local company had twenty-five members in line and the Major was highly pleased with their work. The officers installed for the ensuing year were E. A. Wells, Captain; W. H. Moore, first lieutenant; H. G. Clegg, second lieutenant; Roy Drake, treasurer; Joseph Haggerty, secretary; Edgar Martz, guard and Harry Prewett, sentinel. The members of the local company are making preparations to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge in Pittsburgh during the month of August.

Report Of Boosters For Chautauqua

At a meeting of the guarantors, firemen and salesmen of the local Chautauqua held in the Monesen Savings and Trust Co., last evening it was reported that about $1,100 worth of tickets had been disposed of since the campaign opened. This report while gratifying to the guarantors as they feel sure the $2,000 guarantee will easily be reached before the week is over did not please the firemen who are anxious to see the sale go far above this amount in order that they may benefit. As a result they will make a through canvass and the public is asked to cooperate with them in their efforts.

Only a few days remain yet until the opening date of the Chatauqua, which promises to be one of the greatest entertainments of its kind ever appearing here and no man, woman or child in the city should let the opportunity pass of securing tickets in advance as it will mean a great saving of admission and it will tend to lend encouragement to the local fire department, who are taking this opportunity of replenishing their treasury.

Independents Kalsomine West Newton Ball Team

The Monessen Independents added another victory to their string last evening when they traveled to West Newton and for the second time took the Youghioghney valley boys over by a score of 1 to 0. Local fans donated autos for the players to make the trip and despite the heavy down pour at 6 o'clock they left for the scene of action. It was decided by both managers that seven innings should be played but with the locals leading at this time the West Newton boys decided that a nine inning game should be played.

Although the game was officially over the locals were forced to return to the diamond and begin the eighth inning. It didn't take the West Newton team long to see that a seven inning contest would have been better as the locals pushed over two runs and had two men on bases when the game was called, the West Newton team walking off the field satisfied that a nine inning contest was going to prove disasterious.

Brightwell was on the mound for the locals and his slow ball had the Youghioney valley stars breaking their back. Barnum was in middle field and Guder on third giving the locals a good strong lineup.

Max Thomson In New Location

Max Thomson opened his jewelry store in Phil Brenner's old stand yesterday morning and during the day hundreds of friends and patrons visited the new establishment and inspected the large line of jewelry, cut glass, etc. G. W. Hill, manager of the Frederick Piano company was the first purchaser and received a beautiful piece of cut glass as a token. Mr. Thomson has installed the latest type of display cases and intends to make his jewelry store the leading establishment of the valley, carrying the most up-to-date line and catering to the best of trade.

Ringgold Reunion At Brownsville

Veterans of the Twenty-second Pennsylvania (Ringgold) cavalry, are making arrangements for the annual reunion of the command which will be held this year at Brownsville on August 18. The residents of the three Brownsvilles are making active preparations for the entertainment of the veterans and their friends, and are planning to give the "old boys" one of the best entertainments ever accorded them.

James H. Gray, of Brownsville is sergeant of the Brownsville G. A. R. post, and has been appointed committee chairman by the regimental committee.

A number of the members of the command have answered the grim reaper's summons during the past few years, and every reunion is saddened by the decreasing number of survivors. It is planned to make this year's reunion a banner one.

Miners Will Hold Outing At Eldora

First-Aid contests that will have to do with the placing of a silver loving cup for a year will feature the annual picnic and outing of the subdistrict miners of District No. 5, to be held on Saturday, August 14, at Eldora park. This will be one of the biggest outings of the year along the Monongahela valley and will bring together hundreds or even thousands of miners and their wives.

Over $300 in prizes will be awarded. There are twelve teams now entered in the first-aid events, and probably there will be more. The Tom's Run team which won the big silver loving cup last year in contests at Eldora has a team entered and there are four or five teams from Elsworth and Cokeburg entered, together with the teams from the Pittsburgh Coal Co., the Vesta mines and the Crescent mine. What ever team wins the first-aid contest gets the cup for just one year. It takes three wins to entitle any team to undisputed possession. In addition to the cup the members of the winning team will be given gold and silver medals.

Parnella Wedding Pretty Affair

A very pretty local wedding was solemenized yesterday evening when Christopher Parnella and Miss Mamie Parnella were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the St. Leonard's R. C. church by Rev. Father A. J. Wigley. The wedding occurred at 5 o'clock and beginning at 7:30 a reception and dance was held in the Italian Hall on Third street.

Mr. Parnella is one of the pioneer residents of this city having located here over 15 years ago. He conducted a small shoe shop for some time and is now owner of the Electric Shoe Shop at 242 Schoonmaker avenue. He enjoys the confidence and friendship of a large number of citizens of this city and hundreds of persons were in attendance at the reception last evening to extend congratulations. The young couple will go to housekeeping in a home already furnished by the groom on Schoonmaker avenue.

New Complaint Against Water Co.

Among the complaints handed in at this office against the water company were found several from the people residing in the vicinity of the pumping station in the hill district. One man claimed that his rates were high enough but the company added insult to injury by keeping him awake during the night with the noisy exhaust on the gas engines used for the pumping purposes. Unlike other companies in this vicinity they have not installed mufflers on their exhaust pipes and all day and at intervals during the night the pumps are kept going with a noise that is deafening. Following the raise in rates it is probable that mufflers may be purchased and the tired mill man may enjoy his slumbers in peace.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SAN FRANCISCO LEADS ALL OTHER CITIES

San Francisco—In proportion to its population, this city pays more in mothers' pensions than any other city in the United States, according to Judge Henry Neil of Illinois, who arranged the great Mothers' Pension Congress which come to a close here today. Judge Neil is known as the father of the mothers' pension system. He stated that this city had distributed a trifle more than $300,000. during the past year to mothers who have dependent children. The congress was held at the exposition, and brought together many earnest advocates of the mothers' pension law.

WILL ARRANGE CLUBS FOR FARMERS WIVES

Topeka, Kas.—Club life as a relief for farmers' wives from the humdrum existence in the rural sections, is the slogan of a new campaign to make every farmer's wife in Kansas a clubwoman. The idea is backed by Mrs. J. M. Miller, president of the State Federation. If women's organizations are beneficial, the farmer's wife most of all needs the club, she declares. The state-wide movement is the result of the success and example of the Osage County Federation, which was the first of its kind in the world, composed mostly of farmers' wives.

SISTER AS CHAPERON FOR HUSBAND AND WIFE

New York—Louisa Thorp Smith, now studying music in this city, has found a way to be friendly with her former husband, though divorced from him She does not hesitate to travel with her former husband, and takes her sister along as a chaperon. The mere fact that there were unsuited as mates has not interfered with their great friendship. Louis Alfred Smith, member of a wealthy Illinois family, first met Louisa Thorp when they were both music students at Chicago. They were married in 1912 and divorced the following year in San Francisco. Then trey took a trip around the world with the chaperone sister, and agreed that in case either party married again, the other one would attend the ceremony.

The Record in Monessen is a Unique One

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ills and is looking for an effective kidney medicine, better depend on the remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills have given great satisfaction in such cases. Monessen citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

H. R Wilbur, 131 McKee avenue, Monessen, says: "I contracted a heavy cold which affected my kidneys. My back was sore and lame all the time and I had to have help to turn in bed. My whole body was like a board. I often had to have somebody dress me. Shooting pains darted through my body and I could not do my work. My body became bloated. The secretions were profuse in passage and contained sediment. I had dizzy spells and hot flashes, and I was miserable in every way. I doctored for years but didn't improve. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and two boxes practically cured me. Now and then I take Doan's Kidney Pills as a tonic, and give them credit for keeping me well."

BIG CITY FOR UNITED STAND

Philadelphia Republicans Make Harmony the Watchword.

INDICATES VICTORY IN 1916

Pennsylvania Gives Promise of Taking the Lead Next Year In Rolling Up an Enormous Vote For G. O. P. Men of All Parties Feel That Permanent Prosperity Cannot Be Realized Unless Republicans Win.

Philadelphia, July 20.—With all the Republican elements in this city united and preparing for the mayoralty battle, it looks as if the majority that will be rolled up for the party in Philadelphia this fall will be the token for the big victory next year. Philadelphia—the first Republican city of the land—will indicate to all the people that the Republican party in 1916 is going to regain the presidency and control of congress.

Enemies of the Republican party are greatly aggrieved at the "effrontery" of the G. O. P. in Philadelphia to make harmony its watchword. Hardly a day passes but that wild tales of a prospective break in the ranks are published in the Democratic and near-Democratic press, but as a rule every such story contains in itself enough contradictions to make a denial unnecessary.

The Republicans of Philadelphia will name a ticket that will mow everything before it like a Kansas scythe. Those who continually fight the Republican party realize this fact and are pursuing their present tactics for the same reason that a man who is drowning grabs at a straw. They have a faint hope that harmony may possibly move out and discord take its place, in which event, and only in which event, the so-called Independents might defeat the will of the majority.

The late Washington party is now busily carrying out a fusion plan. It is fusion with the Republicans. With their own party practically out of existence in Pennsylvania, as it has gone out of existence in Michigan Minnesota, South Dakota and other states carried in 1912, those who supported Roosevelt and Johnson are not only willing but anxious to return to the fold.

As a matter of fact, the ruining of American industries by the Democrats has been a bitter and painful experience to men of all parties, including many former Democrats. It has taught the people that the only hope for the restoration of prosperity in the state and in the nation is the restoration of the Republican party to power, and the restoration, through the Republican party, of protection for American industries.

Men who strayed away from the Republican party in 1912 are home again, because they are intelligent enough to realize that the split of three years ago enabled the Democrats to win control of the nation.

The Republican party is looked upon as the national party pledged to the principles of protection for American labor and American industries from being driven out of business by the poorly paid labor of Europe and Japan. Republicans of Pennsylvania realize that it will require a victory next year to rebuild the industries of the Keystone State that were damaged when the Democrats took hold of things.

No better admission by the Democratic press that the policy of that party on the question of the tariff is unjust to our industries could be made than the following news article in the Philadelphia Record of recent date. It not only confirms everything the Republicans have been claiming regarding the tariff, but further states that the present activity of American hosiery mills is due entirely to the European war. Here is what the Democratic Philadelphia Record says:

"Hosiery and underwear mills all over Philadelphia are now running at full blast, as the result of an unprecedented rush of war orders, it was learned yesterday at a special meeting of the officers, directors and advisory board of the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers, held in the Manufacturers' Club. From nearly every nation in the conflict have come commissions for enormous purchases, making it necessary to run all mills on extended time and engage thousands of extra work people.

"The meeting was held yesterday to consider problems of the trade, which have come up as a result of the war. Chief among the subjects considered was that of finding sufficient dye to color the immense amount of hosiery now being made. The dye supply which formerly came from Germany has been entirely cut off, and there is no relief from the shortage in sight. A resolution was adopted favoring the enactment of a tariff on dyes, so as to protect and foster dyemaking in this country. This is a magnificent opportunity, the manufacturers said, to build up this industry, but it cannot be done without some assurance being given to those who might invest their capital in it that Germany would not swamp this country with her dyes at the conclusion of the war. Capital, they declared, is eager to enter this field, but will not do so when the possibility of future German competition seems to forecast ruin when the European hostilities cease. For some years, they declared, it will cost more to make dyes here than abroad; therefore there should be a tariff high enough to protect this industry."

Charles Lurvey, Noted Pianist, Appears at Chautauqua Here

ONE of the musical sensations of the Redpath-Brockway Chautauqua which is soon to be enjoyed in this city will be the piano selections by Mr. Charles Lurvey, accompanist for the Kickbush Reuter Company.

For two seasons Mr. Lurvey was with Maggie Teyte, noted vocalist, and he has toured also with Mme Gadski and Amato. He is a native of Wisconsin, and his musical training is thoroughly American. In New York, Boston, Chicago, Minneapolis and other great cities where he has appeared musical critics have complimented him almost without limit. After the close of the Chautauqua season Mr. Lurvey will make an extensive tour as accompanist for Jenny Dufau noted French soprano. Mr. Lurvey plays absolutely from memory, and his appearance here will be one of the most delightful musical events of the season.

A Village Tale

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

It was when Uncle Ebenezer Davidson was postmaster at Hopeville that Silas Thompson and Ben Goodheart met at the postoffice one evening, and as they sat around and whittled and waited for the mail to come in Silas lazily queried:

"Eben, you've been to Cat Hill a hundred times, I reckon, and jest how far do you call it from Hopeville?"

"Jest as far as it is," answered Eben after thinking for about three minutes.

"And that's ten miles?"

"Who said it was?"

"I say so. I carried the mail on that road fur three long years, and I reckon I know the distance purty well. I asked you because some one said you call it only nine and a half miles."

"And that's what I'm sayin' this minit. It's nine miles and a half to an inch."

"Say, Eben, didn't you measure it with a purty short tapeline?" asked Silas as he whittled away.

"It's jest nine and a half," answered Eben in a dogged way.

"It's exactly ten."

"Not an inch over nine and a half!"

"Not an inch under ten miles!"

"Silas, are you crazy or a born fool?" asked Eben as his hair began to curl.

"I ain't a big nuff fool to call it nine miles and a half to Cat Hill!" yelled Silas in reply.

They jawed about it half an hour longer, and they parted bad friends. In the course of two or three days Eben put up a sign reading, "Cat Hill—Nine and a Half Miles," and as soon as Silas heard of it he put up another reading, "Cat Hill—Ten Miles." That made things worse, and a half dozen families were mixed up in the quarrel. Almost every night in the year the two men met at the postoffice, and, though they wouldn't notice each other, they had their ways of hurting each other's feelings. Silas would look around to Ezra Billings and giggle and chuckle and say:

"Did you hear that Cat Hill had moved inland a half a mile, Ezra? She used to be ten miles from Hopeville, but she moved up to nine and a half to accommodate sartin smart folks."

Eben would be hurt and want to get even, and he'd look at Jabez White and say:

"Heard about that escaped lunatic, Jabez? They say he's measurin' the road from here to Cat Hill with a tow string and that it keeps him crazy because he can't make but nine and a half miles of it."

The two men never came to blows, but they never met without trying to hurt each other's feelings. If one favored anything the other opposed it, and they were contrary in politics, religion and all public improvements. One day Eben got buried in his well by a cave-in, and though Silas helped to dig him out the chance was one to say:

"Mebbe this narrow escape from death will make him turn to the truth in the future and admit it's ten miles to Cat Hill."

It wasn't four weeks after that when Silas had a saw log roll over him, and as he lay there all flattened out Eben came up and looked on him and said:

"He seems to be a goner, but if the Lord lets him live it will be that he may take half a mile off the distance to Cat Hill and save his soul from perdition."

Folks thought the dispute might wear itself out in a year or two, but it didn't. It kept right on for twenty long years and never grew cold. Eben would have gone to Indiana to live, but he didn't want to leave Silas behind to crow over him, and Silas would not go to Syracuse to run a sawmill for the same reason. At length Eben lay on his dying bed, and just the minute the doctor told him his case was hopeless he sat up and said:

"Then I want you to send for Silas Tompkins. I've got something I want to say to him before I die."

Silas didn't hang back about coming, and after he'd arrived and said he was sorry Eben said to him:

"Silas, how fur is it to Cat Hill?"

"It's jest ten miles, Eben, jest ten."

"But I'm a dyin' man."

"Yes, I know, but it's jest ten miles."

"It's only nine and a half, Silas, and you are as big a fool as you was twenty years ago!"

"Ten miles!"

"Nine and a half!"

Silas went away, and Eben died, and a year later Silas was called to go. When he realized it he said to his wife:

"Martha, don't let anybody bluff you when I'm gone. It's ten miles to Cat Hill, and you stick to it if you have to live on cold taters."

"I'll do it, Silas," she answered.

In a day or two he was dead and buried, and as the usual crowd met at the postoffice in the evening the talk was all about the two men and their lifelong dispute. Some said one was right, and some said the other. There was a stranger present, and by and by he pricked up his ears and asked:

"Was you folks talkin' about the distance to Cat Hill?"

"We was," says Moses Campbell, and he goes on to explain about Eben and Silas.

"Why, they were both blamed idiots!" says the stranger when he had the facts in hand. "I'm the man who opened and surveyed that road, and it's jest exactly nine and three-quarters of a mile long!"

CHOSE ANTIQUE PLACE FOR HER WEDDING

San Francisco—A wedding on the high seas in the Far East has been chosen by Mrs. John D. Spreckels, Jr., wealthy society woman, who will wed Frank W. Wakefield of this city. The couple obtained their passports two weeks ago and the bride-to-be is already in the Orient. The groom will leave this week, meet Mrs. Spreckels in the far east and the couple will be married on the high seas. They will then tour the Orient.

SCIENCE TO WORK WITH THE STORK

Chicago—That science has at last found a way to time the coming of Mr. Stork to that birthday will be optional, is the claim of wealthy women of this city who have become mothers at Wesley hospital. The appointment with the stork can now be made any time within a range of two weeks, and old Mr. Stork no longer chooses his own time for dropping in. The system was put in practice by Dr. Charles B. Reed at Wesley hospital, and the last hundred babies have arrived at the hour decreed by the mother rather than by the bird with the big beak.

YOUNG GIRL WANTS AN ORPAN BABY

Minneapolis—Miss Viola Bow, the beautiful daughter of Alderman D. C. Bow of this city, has ordered a baby. A blue eyed flaxen haired baby from a New York orpharge will be sent to her, with her fathers consent. Although the foster mother is only 19, she has no fears as to her ability to care for her ward, for she has managed the alderman's household for the past few years.

SECURED A DIVORCE FROM SUFFRAGE WIFE

Seattle—A. J. Jarmuth, a prominent Alaska mining man, has secured a divorce here from his estranged wife Ruth De Lone Jarmuth, who is campaigning in New York. He convinced the court that the suffrage work was taking up all her time. In a deposition the suffrage leader declared she had always been kind to Mr. Jarmuth's children by his first marriage and emphatically denied that she was to blame for the breaking up of the home.
